

about us

BRIDGES PUBLISHING HOUSE works with quality authors to publish manuscripts and achieve commercial success. We distribute, reaching a wide global audience.

Our mission is to provide equitable, fair, and knowledgeable representation to all authors—whether they are just beginning or already seasoned writers.

Founded by Chantay Bridges, BPH empowers the voices of authors to turn dreams into a reality, offering support from start to finish. We help streamline the writing process, making sure finding success fits your lifestyle, whether you are traveling the world, running meetings in the board room, or trying to keep up with your children's activities. Unlike larger publishing houses, we're proud to provide one-on-one personal attention to each client.
